Event description:
On March 23rd, 2026, an Open door day on Faculty of Technical Sciences in cooperation with Regional Innovation Center Zubin Potok was held. The event gathered fourth-year high school students from various schools across the region, providing them with an opportunity to become more familiar with academic and professional opportunities offered by the Faculty as well as the opportunities that Regional Innovation Center Zubin Potok offers to young people particularly in the fields of innovation and professional development emphasizing the importance of connecting education with real-world applications and support systems for youth. Students were introduced to study programs, enrollment conditions, and career prospects. In addition, they had the opportunity to visit faculty laboratories, where they were guided by the vice deans of the faculty, gaining practical insight into the learning environment and ongoing projects. The participants were also addressed by the Dean of the Faculty of Technical Sciences, Prof. Dr. Zoran Golubović, as well as representatives of the Regional Innovation Center Zubin Potok. Their speeches emphasized the importance of education, innovation, and continuous professional development. Furthermore, the Sokolus team presented their innovative idea, demonstrating to students the real and achievable opportunities available through knowledge, creativity, and initiative. As part of the Open Day, several Erasmus+ projects were also promoted, including SPHERE. The Erasmus+ project SPHERE is focused on improving higher education in the field of sustainable transportation in line with EU Green Deal priorities. Its main goal is to modernize study programs by introducing new courses, developing laboratories, and transferring knowledge and best practices from EU universities to partner institutions. The project was presented by Jovana Maksimović.

These projects demonstrate the Faculty's active involvement in international cooperation and its commitment to enhancing educational quality, mobility, and innovation.
